A Remarkable Result.

It makes no difference how many Physicians, or how much medicine you have tried, it is now an established fact that German Syrup is the only remedy which has given complete satisfaction in severe cases of Lung Disease. It is true there are yet thousands of persons who are predisposed to Throat and Lung Affections, Consumptien, Hemorrhages, Asthma, Severe Colds settled on the Breast, Pneumonia, Whooping, Cough, &c., who have no personal knowledge of Boschee's German Syrup. To such we would say that 50,000 dozen were sold last year without one complaint. Consumptives, try just one bottle. Regular size 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists in America. *

A Remarkable Case.

. A large proportion of the American people are to-day dying from the effects of Dyspepsia or disordered liver. The result of these diseases upon the masses of intelligent and valuable people is most alarming, making life actually a burden instead of a pleasant existence of enjoyment and usefulness as it ought to be. There is no good reason for this, if you will only throw aside prejudice and skepticism, take the advice of Druggists and your friends, and try one bottle of Green's August Flower. Your speedy relief is certain. Millions of bottles of this medicine have been given away to try its virtues, with satisfactory results in every case. You can buy a sample bottle for 10 cents to try. Three doses will relieve the worst case. Positively sold by all Druggists on the Western Continent. *

DENTISTRY.—Dr. Cool calls attention to the beautiful alluminium-lined vulcanit-plates for upper and lower sets. The advantage of this work is that it is very thin, much stronger and lighter than the common plate usually worn; also, being a better conductor of heat and cold, it does not produce the iritation, sometimes caused by rubber or non-conducting substances. I make these sets for $35, something never before done, and guarantee my patrons that after once wearing one of them they will wear no other. The treatment of diseased teeth and fine operating I make a specialty. Teeth built up with pure gold to their natural contour; artificial crowns adjusted to roots in the best manner. Work of every description done anywhere I engage to do at the most reasonable prices. *

DR. JAMES, Broughton St., opposite Council Chambers, can be consulted daily. Of nearly 50 years' extensive practice in England, America, and Australia. He extracts polypus and cancer without the use of the knife when taken in time. Dr. James is the discoverer of a medicine which cures all LOCAL RHEUMATIC PAINS AS SOON AS APPLIED. DR. JAMES is in possession of medicines that never failed to stop and cure DIPTHERIA, SMALLPOX, CROUP and all FEVERS in a few hours. N. B.—Mrs. James, midwife of long experience and successful practice in this city, is open to engagement.

PEACE PROCLAIMED.—After ten years of active warfare! I have been at war with my customers for ten long years, and I am now ready to DYE FOR THEM at reduced rates. Gents' clothes cleaned and repaired; faded curtains and clothing restored and made to appear as good as when new. Customers abroad will not have reason to grumble at prices if they send their articles to T. W. Pierre, tailor and dyer, Yates street, next door to Reynolds' butcher shop. Castoff clothing taken in exchange for work. *

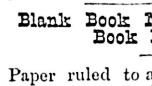
Blank Book Manufactory and Book Bindery.

Paper ruled to any pattern. Tickets. Receipts, etc., numbered and perforated. Charts and maps mounted. The best classes of modern machinery employed. R. T. WILLIAMS, Government street, entrance through Messrs. Hibben & Co's store. *

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE

—EFFECTED BY—

California Elastic Truss!



CALIFORNIA ELASTIC TRUSS CO., W. J. Horne Proprietor—Dear Sir: I feel that I owe it to you and to humanity to write the fact that I have been SUBSTANTIALLY CURED of a bad case of rupture of thirty years' standing, by one of your incomparable Trusses, which I purchased from you three months ago. I cannot describe the suffering, both physically and mentally, that I have undergone during that period; and now I feel like a new being. I have worn all kinds of Trusses, both Steel and Elastic, and never received any permanent relief until I tried yours. Its simplicity of construction, and facility with which it can be adjusted, and the ease and perfect freedom to the motions of the body with which it can be worn without causing any irritation, are its chief merits, and it is a perfect supporter. I have not had any sign of a return of the rupture since the first day I put it on and feel that I am PERFECTLY CURED. It is invaluable, and the fact should be known to the world. You can refer anyone to me on the subject of its merits. I am truly yours, ALFRED J. BURKE,
Chief Mail Clerk S. F. Daily Evening Post.

Come ye citizens and strangers,
Miners, sailors and Western rangers,
Listen to the truthful story,
Of Frank Campbell of Victoria.
He in truthful words will tell you
Just the goods he has to sell you.
Mind ye now he isn't joking,
If you are fond of chewing and smoking,
Or if you are given to snuffing,
What he keeps does not need puffing.
He has brands will suit you really,
Tobacco users prize them dearly;
From all parts of the "Old Dominion"
He has stock, and his opinion
Is that none can suit you better
They will please you to the letter.
His Cigars, just from 'Havana,'
Smoke in the most lovely manner;
Meerschaum pipes of style and fashion
Just to suit each taste and passion;
And it is in Canada stated,
His Tobaccos are celebrated;
Green Seal, Straight Cut, all go,
Big Lick, Big Cut, Wind Sap, also
All the Fine Cut Brands for chewing
That your teeth will never ruin;
Pipes to suit the inveterate smoker,
Cards for playing sinch or poker,
Pipes of briar and stems of cherry
More than any man can carry;
It would take a week to tell you
All the things he has to sell you.
While in town you may be stopping
At the "Adelphi Corner" drop in;
Campbell you'll find at that location
Ready to give you information,
Or to see you well provided,
With what is by all decided,
The smoker's and the chewer's glory,
The best and cheapest in Victoria.

THE RAILWAY.

On Thursday we tried to show that the effect of a successful demand on Canada for the survey of Pine River Pass before railway work shall be undertaken in any other part of the Province would prove disastrous in its consequences and effects. Business is bad enough now. It would be completely paralyzed then. It is with the object of averting so disastrous a consequence that we asked the Ottawa Government, while acceding to the very reasonable request to reopen the surveys on the Mainland — to construct the promised line of railway between Esquimalt and Nanaimo; and, so as to assure the greatest amount of advantage to the Province from railway expenditure, we suggested that a line from Yale to Savona be commenced simultaneously with that from Nanaimo to Esquimalt, so that the country would be immediately placed in a position to feed the army of workmen and the sudden influx of population that would follow in their train instead of sending abroad for the necessaries of life which are raised in abundance in the interior, but are shut out from a market because of want of cheap and expeditious communication with the seaboard. We can see nothing sectional in that proposition. In truth, it would appear to be the only broad and comprehensive mode of dealing with the question in a spirit of fairness towards the whole Province. Senator MACDONALD's proposition, we must be allowed to say, in effect calls for a delay of railway work while the new pass is in course of examination. Engineers state that that examination would consume two years. Say that it only required one year, and that then it was not found to be practicable, would not the country have lost the benefit of the expenditure that would have come from the commencement of the lines proposed by us, and if it proved to be practicable, would not the main line be just so far advanced as the Island line counted miles made? We assume that the railway, to meet the aim of its projectors, and to be of real value to the Dominion and a successful competitor of the American lines, must find its way to Esquimalt. This assumption may be erroneous; but why any Victorian should object to the construction of that line, when, in any event, it must prove of incalculable advantage to the country, it is difficult to understand. We observe that our morning contemporary—which never attempts to argue any question—endorses Senator MACDONALD's views, and says:

"We quite agree with Senator Macdonald that it is in the highest degree inexpedient and unwise to ask for any other than the main line at present."

So our contemporary agrees with Senator MACDONALD, does it? Surely it has committed its lesson badly to memory, for we find that for several months past it has strenuously advocated the railway policy of the Local Government and the memorial passed by the House, which prays that,

"In the event of the Dominion Government failing to carry into effect the terms of settlement of 1874, on or before the first day of May next, your Majesty will be graciously pleased to see fit to order and direct, etc., etc."

What is the settlement of 1874? It is the CARNARVON terms, which require that the railway from "Esquimalt to Nanaimo should be begun at once," and that the "Dominion Government should greatly increase the strength of the surveying parties on the Mainland," so that the most practicable route for the main line may be obtained at an early date. Now, we submit that our contemporary, in its anxiety to condemn The Colonist, figures as an opponent of the Local Government who are its chief patrons and its strongest friends. (?) If the main line has not yet been selected, how can railway work be begun before the first of May next? and is not the article of our contemporary really a proposition for further delay by objecting to the commencement of railway work except on the main line? We acquit our contemporary of intentionally and designedly opposing the policy of the Local Government; but we cannot help saying that if it would give a little more thought and take a little more care in the preparation of its articles on such momentous subjects as the railway, it would not be found so frequently running counter to the Government which gives it a generous support. If the CARNARVON Terms are not carried out by May the 1st, 1879, then Separation will be in order; and if the main line by that time has not been selected how can railway work be commenced before that date, since our contemporary, "agreeing with Senator MACDONALD," declines to accept any but work done on the main line? Is that the drift of Senator MACDONALD's argument? We did not so understand it.

RUSSIAN FINANCE.

The finances of Russia appear by all accounts to be in a state of deplorable confusion. General GREIG, the new Russian Minister, is in Paris, and is reported to be endeavoring to effect a loan. The security offered is said to be the sale of the tobacco monopoly for the entire empire, or a pledge of the woods and forests. Meanwhile, the internal condition of the whole Russian Empire is such as might excite the compassion of its worst foes, so great is the suffering of the people from extreme poverty. Discontent is rife throughout the Empire, and needs, indeed, in the eyes of the Russian Government, the diversion of a foreign war which increased the paper currency by five hundred million roubles, that is sixty millions sterling, besides adding seventy million roubles, or say nine millions sterling, to the annual interest on the national debt. This last figure is half as much again as the highest estimate made before the war broke out, and it represents an addition of no less than two hundred millions sterling to the capital of the debt. Retrenchment being impossible, especially in the military department, an increase of taxes and Custom dues is contemplated.

Liquor Licenses.

EDITOR COLONIST:—I should like to know what rule applies or what law governs the dispensing of liquor licenses in this place. By the manner that licenses have been granted broadcast in this neighborhood with the last twelve months it seems to me that some definite rule should be made, that the permission may be based on sound business principles, reason and common sense. When no law, reason or the common principles of business guide those who for the time being have the power to grant these licenses, what are we to expect but competition from any numbskull envious of his neighbor's bread and cheese, and that competition in sparsely peopled localities is synonymous with ruin. Under such circumstances the sooner some rule is established apart from the whim, caprice or discretion of (unfortunately by their action in the past) men utterly unable or unwilling to use their power aright—I say the sooner some rule is established the better.

The retail liquor dealers pay a heavy and special tax for the privilege, and in the fitness of things they are entitled to special protection. The absurd theory that governed under Mayor Drummond's regime, that the more the better, is too peurile for attack. I should not even allude to it were it not that this same theory has been carried into practice lately with a vengeance.

To show, sir, the injustice of this promiscous licensing: Say I keep an old-established house. I've paid my license for six months. When so doing there was no thought or word of new establishments. I wake up some morning and there in less than a hop, skip and jump, is a rival establishment, and that too in a neighborhood that was already overdone with such places. I say that such a system of managing public affairs is a beggardly injustice to the struggling establishments whom it injures. And then to hear the men who have the option of licencing say with a snicker, "another $100 for the exchequer," I should certainly think them lacking in all public qualities but those befitting a farmer of taxes in Turkey. Does kissing go by favor in such instances, or are the grantors of these licenses too morally weak to say 'No,' although they know well that their "Yea" will be doing an injustice to a dozen others. The sooner such power is taken from such hands the better.

I would call upon the proprietors of all old established houses to at once form themselves into a protective association. Let them do so with an energy befitting live business men so that they may at least have a say in affairs that effect their most vital interests.

Boss.

LOOKING TO A NEW SOURCE FOR GOLD.—The Placer Herald says: A gentleman by the name of Allen Oliver, who has thoroughly prospected this country for gold, has come to the conclusion, in his own mind, that the riches of California are not in the quartz, only in very limited quantities. That the main grand original source of gold is only partially understood. He considers that the rock known as porphpry, or as he terms it, metallic ashes, is the original source from whence issues all the gold that has ever been discovered in California or any other country. So confirmed is he in opinion as to be induced to invent machinery for the express purpose of extracting the precious metal from this porphyry or metallic ashes. Machinery has been manufactured in San Francisco by Jno. Lockhead at a great expense, and is now at Auburn Station, on its way to its final location. It was at one time intended to have this machinery erected near the mouth of Volcano Canyon, on the middle fork of American river, but as it appears to be very difficult to obtain teams to move it to that locality, it is more than probable that it will be erected on the American river, near Auburn, and be run by water from the Bear river ditch. The machinery, which is very massive, was set up in San Francisco, and found to work to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Peddler Gunn, a canny Scott, walks Victoria round,
Carries in a satchel posh goods of the choicest found;
I lug in my basket neat, Fruits, Candies, in a can,
Tobacco for some that suits, to use it is a bad plan.
I carry in my little box Spools, Papers, Pins,
Matches, Polish of every sort, to make things tidy clean.
I sell as cheap as other men, think it no disgrace
To share your favor with Brother Gunn cannot be out of place.
Ye wholesale folks think it not a stain upon your fame
That you should buy of me a wee bit's worth now and again.
Equals in future the good shall be, the cotter and his Lord,
It is only pure morality that's by humanity adored;
The honest poor never slight, he may be king of men,
While one is struggling in the right help him all you can.
I call around on rich and poor, all equals with me;
I reverence only good characters whatever their purses be.
Reserve a bit in kindness, please, to buy when I do pause,
For you shall never poorer be to encourage a worthy cause.
I thank, sincerely thank, those who befriended me;
All that from good motives act shall rich rewarded be.

Municipal Police Court.

[Before H. C. Courtney, Esq.]

FRIDAY, Dec. 5.

Edward P. Baker, charged with being of unsound mind and not under proper care and control, was remanded until Monday next.

Mary and Tommy, Indians, charged with being drunk and disorderly, were fined $2 25 and $5 respectively.

James Curley, charged with carrying a concealed weapon (a knife), was discharged, the knife having been confiscated.

CHOIR'S PIONEER DIRECTORY.—A very useful little hand-book bearing this name has recently been published by Mr. M. Choir, of Seattle, and a copy of it has found its way to our editorial table. The work, which has evidently been compiled with great care, contains an alphabetical list of the leading firms of Washington Territory, a description of the resources of that country and its principal public works, a general condensation of the land laws, and much other valuable information. The little volume can be obtained, post-paid, by forwarding its price—one dollar—to the publisher. We notice that it is intended to issue the directory at the commencement of every year.

ASKEW'S NEW SAW-MILL.—Mr. T. G. Askew has in course of erection a new saw-mill at Horseshoe Bay, Chemainus. The building is 138 feet long by 40 feet wide, two stories in height, and stands on a most substantial foundation. The mill will be driven by one of N. F. Burnham's (1874) turbine water-wheels, which will give about 90 horse-power. Mr. Askew expects to saw lumber in about six weeks' time. Some cargoes of spars and timber have been shipped from Horseshoe Bay to foreign parts, and have invariably given satisfaction.

HOSPITAL BENEFIT.—The proceeds of the entertainment given by the dramatic company of H. M. S. Turquoise at Theatre Royal amounted to $104. This sum was placed in the hands of Mrs. Archdeacon Wright by the company for special purchases. The lady handed the amount to the directors at the last monthly meeting for that object. Mrs. Wright has also given to the hospital a beautiful harmonium, the result of a special collection made by her.

Important to the Putters Up of Canned Goods in B. C.

Shippers of canned goods to England would do well to remember that after the first day of the new year a new law regulating weights will go into effect in that country. Under its provisions exact weights, neither more nor less, must be delivered. Exporters are in the habit of marking their tins 1-lb, 2-lb, and so on, according to their contents, and under the new law they will find some difficulty in regulating the tins to the exact weight. The English Grocers' Association, which has called the attention of the American traders to this fact, advises them in future to sell by the tin, instead of by weight. This course was recommended in the United States so long ago as 1874, when a convention of canned goods packers, which met in Philadelphia, adopted a resolution of that purport.

Death of Mr. David Kurtz.

We regret to announce the death last evening in this city of Mr. David Kurtz, late of the firm of Strouss, Briggs & Kurtz, and formerly United States Vice-Consul at this port. Mr. Kurtz, who was native of Philadelphia, came to British Columbia in 1863, and for many years was a leading merchant at Cariboo, before embarking in business in this city. He was of a peculiarly amiable and kindly disposition, which drew about him a circle of warm friends, by whom he was greatly beloved. Mr. Kurtz leaves a wife and three children to mourn his untimely demise. The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon from the residence of his brother-in-law, C. E. Redfern, Esq., James Bay.

REPORTED ROBBERY.—A report comes from Tenino, W. T., that a man who was seeking a farm in that locality and who had a large amount of money on his person, was accosted by two masked footpads on Wednesday last, shot through the hand and relieved of his purse. The injured man, who was picked up and taken on board the cars, states that his assailants were disguised with deer-skin, and that the second shot fired at him grazed one of his ears. If he had come to British Columbia he would have been able to pre-empt a rich section of land without fear of molestation in any shape or form.

Query for "Maple Leaf."

SIR:—In your letter to the Standard of to-day you say that "Saanich alone grows more grain than Yale district." If this is the case how is it that the owners of the steamer California are reaping a fortune by freighting flour, bacon, hogs, butter, eggs and chicken feed from Oregon to Victoria? On her last trip that steamer brought 9,700 sacks of flour for Victoria and New Westminster merchants, and in all nearly 280 tons (560,000 lbs.) of farm produce, such as is grown in the interior of British Columbia.

London Assurance.

A crowded house greeted the second appearance of Miss Augusta L. Dargon at Theatre Royal last night. The play selected was Boucicault's sparkling comedy "London Assurance," with the great actress in the character of Lady Gay Spanker. Her rendering of the part was excellent throughout, but especially so in the depiction of the hunting field wherein she fairly carried her audience with her over brook and hedge and brought them in at the death. As contrasted with her portrayal of "Leah" on Thursday night her representation of "Lady Gay" affords most conclusive proof that she is not only talented but most versatile, the two characters being diametrically opposed to one another both in action and sentiment. Her conception of the vivacious and somewhat headstrong, but withal good hearted, Lady Gay is original and on that account all the more effective. She was ably supported by Miss Wade as Grace Harkaway, who assumed her part with good taste. Mr. Lindsay appeared as Sir Harcourt, and contributed in a great measure to the successful manner in which the play was represented. A word of praise is undoubtedly due to Mr. R. C. White, who made and excellent "Meddle;" and to Messrs. Sutherland, Robinson and Allen, who took the characters of Dazzle, Max Harkaway and Cool respectively. Miss Dargon was frequently applauded, and in fact the entire play passed off with great eclat. The management have in their company another very talented actress, Miss Jean C. Walters, who is at present in this city, but owing to the selection of the plays in which Miss Dargon has appeared, no opportunity has been afforded that lady of displaying to Victorians her great ability. It is to be hoped that when the company visit the city again that Miss Walters will be introduced to the community as her reputation as a leading actress is fully established on this coast. The company will give a matinee commencing at 2 p.m. today, in which Miss Dargon will appear in her celebrated role of Leah. In the evening the company will make their farewell appearance, the sublime play of Lucretia Borgia being selected for the occasion. Reserved seats should be secured at Redfern's jewelry store early this morning.

Canada's Welcome to "Lorne."

[For The Colonist.]

Thy blazon'd shield, Britannia, proudly shows,
The modest thistle and the queenly rose;
With Scotia's emblem of her rugged worth
Is joined fair Anglia's peerless flow'r of earth.
No longer now each marks a rival throne,
They vie in loyalty to one alone;
Yet closer still the sister kingdoms bind
Their loving cords, a dearer union find;
Lo! o'er the peaceful realms an angel's smiles
Surprise the youthful chieftain of the Isles,
Pleading the memories of ancestral fame.
He dares in Albion's court a bride to claim,—
Plucks from her royal home the precious gem
Fit for the proudest monarch's diadem!
Illustrious scion of a noble race,
Thou shalt not owe to courtesy a place
'Mid high-born princes of a kingly line;
Vice-regal honors wait thee and are thine!
Here in the regions of departing day
Thy happy spouse shall hail thy rightful sway.
By love and pow'r thy double title's blest,
Lord of the Isles and Viceroy of the West!
The glad Dominion owns her Sovereign's care,
In deigning thus her government to share
O'er lands, far sever'd by the Atlantic tide,
Yet now by Nature's fondest ties allied.
"God save our Queen," a grateful people cry,
"God save the son of England's majesty!"
From mountain peak to Ocean's furthest bound
From town to town th' inviting cheers resound
Quebec, Toronto, Brunswick, Montreal—
Their joy-bells ring, responsive to the call,
Pealing across the snowdrifts from afar
Back to the stately halls of Ottawa.
Ontario's waters gently murmur "Hail!"
And Lake Superior swells the chilly gale
With liquid welcomes to her coming Lord,
While all our forests sough their wild accord.
E'en lone Columbia joins in loyal strain,
"God save Victoria's son! Long may he reign!
Long may the rose and thistle intertwine
In fond embrace! Long may the twin stars shine!"
And with reflected radiance e'er be seen
Shedding fresh lustre to the mother Queen;
Thus as we sing with thankful hearts to-day,
To God on High be glory, let us pray,
Blest be the Western home of fair Louise!
The daughter of the Empress of the Seas!
Who from her throne imperial doth not scorn
T' entrust her sceptre, with her child, to Lorne.

Passing His Card.

[Paris Figaro]

They were playing at cards, when all of a sudden the game was interrupted, angry words passed and the players arose:

"See here, you're holding altogether too many aces,"

"What do you say, sir?"

"I say you are a swindler."

"I will call you to account for this unpardonable insult."

"I am at your service at any time." Here is my card, sir." (Throws down, by mistake, another ace which he draws from his pocket.)

IN 1859 Mr. J. S. Hogan, M.P., for the Country of Grey, was murdered near Toronto. The deed was said to have been committed by one of the Brooks Bush gang, who were broken up at that time, and one of them named Brown was tried, convicted and hung for the murder. A Mail reporter now states having had an interview with a woman, who is the sole survivor of the gang, and she tells a story to the effect that Brown was an innocent victim. This seems to be confirmed by the prisoner's protestations during the trial and when sentenced. During the confinement he made frequent protestations of innocence, and his last words were, "I call the Almighty God to witness that I am innocent of the murder for which I am about to be hung." From recent developments it almost seems certain that he was innocent, and while sincere pity must be felt that a man should have suffered unjustly, still he was to be blamed for being a member of a gang whose regular occupation was thivieng and debauchery, and apparences were thus strongly against him. The moral to be deduced from this is apparent to law as well as to men," a man is known by the company he keeps."

We find the following in our files of the Hongkong Press:

News of a very serious rebellion in Kwang-si has reached us. It is stated that a brigadier-general named Li has revolted and is at the head of 50,000 men under arms He has been disappointed in not receiving some preferment he coveted, and has sold his estates and put himself at the head of a revolutionary movement. Li Yung-choi is a native of Ling-chow, in Kwang-si, and about forty-five years of age. Whether the movement will spread into Hunan, a province noted for the turbulence and disaffection of its people, or will first extend south toword Annam and Yunnan, as the Chinese report it is doing, remains to be seen. Under any circumstances there should be little doubt but that the Imperial government will be able to successfully cope with the rebellion, although it may take some time before they succeed in staying its progress. At present Li is said to be carrying all before him.

It is, we believe, a fact that the Chinese authorities have not, up to the present date, made a single arrest on account of the Wu-shih-shan riot and incendiarism, in which the Wesleyan Church Mission was destroyed.

Japan.

The Yokohama Guzette says: The recent outbreak of cholera in Nagasaki, details of which we have published from time to time, has once more directed attention to the necessity of taking some measures for the protection of places as yet free from this disease. Fortunately, the disease prevailing in Nagasaki does not appear to be very serious, partaking, we believe, more of the sporadic than of the malignant Asiatic tybe.

News of a terrible disaster has reached us. It appears that a steam vessel called the Tokushima-Maru, recently built to ply between Osaka and Awa, left the former place on the 28th of October on her first and last voyage. At 11 a.m. on that day, when off Tanda, some gunpowder laden on board exploded, instantly destroying the vessel. Eighty-three passengers, with the whole of the crew, twelve in number, were lost, and in the words of a witness of the dreadful occurrence, "in a few minutes all was over; not a vestige of wreckage, nor sign of struggling humanity marked the surface of the calm, blue water."

The paper currency fell recently to from 10 to 15 per cent. discount, and as we go to press the nominal quotation is 13¼ per cent. discount.

PETROLEUM AND COAL TAR TO MELT GLASS AND IRON.

[From the New York World.]

A warm, crimson light shone through the smoke-stained windows of the boiler-room at the Brooklyn Navy Yard for seven hours the other afternoon, although but four pounds of coal were burned in the great furnace. The light came from an apparatus in the furnace walls, made by removing bricks that visitors might see the flame within, which completely filled the body of the furnace. It was almost white and dazzling as a calcium light. A long iron rod was thrust into one of the apertures at 3 o'clock. As it was withdrawn a molten ball clung to the end of it, which presently, by force of its own weight, dropped to the stone flooring, leaving a thread behind it. "Let us see how long that is," the cleanhanded fireman said, and he walked off sixteen feet with the rod before the thread broke. "You won't find any specks or impurities in that glass," exclaimed a stout, ruddy-faced man in a blue flannel shirt, and eyes bright with the gleam of triumph, as he passed a piece of the thread among the visitors, "because there's no sulphur in it and it is almost perfectly annealed." The glass had been put in the furnace but two hours before—the time allowed for melting glass by the common method is sixteen hours, and even then it is usually tainted with sulphur.

The results illustrated by this simple experiment—many others were afterwards made—and the appearance as described of the flame inside of the furnace, are due to the invention of a process for producing steam by the use of petroleum as fuel. To all appearances, the process is a simple one, although it cost twenty years of study to perfect it. A gaspipe beginning at a tank of petroleum on the floor above the boiler-room ends in a short funnel, the mouth of which protrudes into the furnace door. When the valves in the pipe are open, a fierce but delicate spray of liquid—a mixture of petroleum, coal tar and a patient ingredient—shoots out from the mouth of the funnel. When this spray touches a flame, ignition and combustion occur, and the heat finally resolves itself into a body of white flame, which the inventor says would fill a furnace as long as from the Battery to Central Park, if a furnace so long could be constructed. The funnel-shaped end of the pipe has much to do with the nature of the spray. When mixed with coal tar the petroleum assumes the consistency of molasses, and in this form it passes nearly to the end of the iron pipe, where it is joined by the other ingredient, about which the inventor speaks reservedly. Its effect is to destroy, at least partially, the volatile and inflammable properties of the oil. At the entrance to the funnel the liquid comes in contact with a current of super-heated steam, which atomizes it. This produces the spray which, as it leaves the funnel, ignites and bursts into flame. It is claimed that the inflammable properties of the liquid itself have been destroyed, and that so far from exploding, it would have the effect of water and tend to extinguish the fire if thrown upon a bed of live coals. It is only after atomization that the spray is oxydized or burned. When the apparatus is in full blast the temperature reaches a heat of 5,000 degrees, which will melt pig iron in less than fifteen minutes and glass in two hours. By an ordinary blast furnace it takes two hours to melt iron.

The application of this invention is designed to extend to all the industries, particularly those in which heat and steam are important agents. The immediate results of its application are perfect combustion, intense heat, quickly produced, of extraordinary evaporation of water and pressure of steam, and freedom from dust, cinders, sulphur, and the other impurities that are necessarily present when coal is burned. All this involves a great saving in the cost of fuel, since little or no coal would be required to keep a furnace in blast, a saving in room usually taken up by such fuel and a saving in labor required to handle it. The daily capacity of the furnace will, moreover, be tribled. Apart from the important item of economy in time, in the manufacture of glass, the absence of sulphur in the flame will permit of the use of open instead of closed pots, so that the heat may be used directly and thus improve the quality of the glass to such an extent that manufacturers may cut them into large plates, avoiding the severe loss to which they are now subjected by having to cut it into small pieces to escape the imperfections which sulphur now produces. The pots, moreover, in a furnace of this kind may be each kept separate, so that one may be removed at any time without disturbing any of the others.

In melting iron by this process, two furnaces are used, one a foot below the other. The pig metal is thrown into the first, and the sulphur is eliminated in from six to eight minutes. Then it is run into the second in such a way that the cold air cannot come in contact with it, the particles thus becoming united. It is then subjected to a fresh heat, which keeps the liquid iron in a constant agitation and drives the carbon from it in from six to eight minutes longer. Then it is ready for the puddler. The metal having thus become entirely freed from carbon and sulphur, its adhesiveness is improved; one-half the labor and cost of finishing is saved, since its quality is excellent, and the quantity of iron is increased 100 pounds to the ton of material. In addition to this, owing to the intense heat, one puddler will turn out in ten hours the amount—ten charges—that four puddlers and helpers turn out by the common methods in twenty-four hours; the labor of handling coal and and removing ashes will be dispensed with; no clinkers will be formed on the furnace walls, and there will be no necessity of scraping bricks and making new hearths almost daily, as in common furnaces; and the cost of fuel will be reduced one-half, and in a furnace of thirty tons capacity a day, the liquid iron will be converted into wrought iron or steel so cheaply that the value of the metal will be enhanced to double its present value. Steel rails may thus be made as cheap as iron rails are now. Such is the inventor's claim. In applying this invention to the ocean steamship business, there will be the saving in the labor of loading and handling 800 tons of coal, and the space reserved for coal may be used for freight at so much gain—it is estimated at $5,000—for addition freight charges; the fire doors may remain closed during the voyage, thus obviating the injurious effects of draughts of cold air upon the boilers; there will be no carbonization of the tubes, necessitating their being worn out by scraping; and the smoke being consumed, the vessel may be kept cleaner; there will be no danger from sparks.

Society Agitation in Washington.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Among the gossip from Washington comes a statement that society there is agitated as to the position it shall assign to the elegant and accomplished octoroon wife of Bruce, the colored Senator from Mississippi, soon to return from her European bridal tour. Official etiquette requires the wives of Cabinet officers and Congressmen to make the first call on a new Senator's wife, and the wives of the old Senators do the same. The only precedent was the case of Mrs. Pinchback, of Louisiana, who being beautiful and accomplished, was quite a lioness in Washington society a few years ago.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S

(Ex Army Med. Staff),

CHLORODYNE

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Ward stated that DR. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the inventor of CHLORODYNE; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent Hospital Physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.—See "Times," July 12, 1864.

The public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This INVALUABLE REMEDY produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the nervous system, restores the deranged functions and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvelous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively, using it extensively in the following diseases:

Diseases in which it is found eminently useful—Cholera, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Colics Coughs, Asthma, Cramp, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Cough, Hysteria.

The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was Chlorodyne.—See "Lancet," Dec. 31, 1864.

From A. Montgomery, Esq., late Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay: Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy for Neuralgia, Asthma and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health after eighteen months severe suffering, and when other medicines had iled.

Dr. Lowe, Medical Missionary in India, reports (Dec., 1865,) that in nearly every case of Cholera in which Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne was administered the patient recovered.

Extract from "Medical Times," Jan. 10, 1866.—Chlorodyne is prescribed by scores of orthodox remedial practioners. Of course it would not thus be singularly popular did it not supply a want and fill a place.

Extract from the general Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera.—So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases.

Beware of spurious and dangerous compounds sold as CHLORODYNE, from which frequent fatal results have followed.

Sold in bottles at 1s 1½d, 2s 9d, 4s 6d, and 11s each
CAUTION.—None Genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
